

The Cable Release

Published by the Syracuse Camera Club

Digital News

- Adobe has released Photoshop Elements 5 (Win Only). There is a 30 day free trial available on there web-site which can be installed along side earlier versions.
- Earlier this month Apple released Aperture 1.5 Update. The updated is free and is available on there web site to current Aperture users.
- For you beta testers. Adobe has released a new Public Beta of Lightroom (beta 4.1). This new version brings some additional functionality over what version 3 had and fixed some issues in version 4. Keep in mind this program is only in beta and not yet available for general release. Lighroom is currently available to the public for testing on both Mac and Win platforms.

SCC Images Go World Wide

All members are invited to post their photos on the Syracuse Camera Club's pbase website, an internet photo sharing site that is visited by viewers worldwide. We currently have fifteen members on the site, which can be viewed at: <http://www.pbase.com/syrcam>. If you are interested in adding your photos, you can get complete directions by downloading the "pbase directions" file from the files section of the syrcam Yahoo group, or by emailing Bob Gates, who will email it to you: bgates@syr.edu.

At the November workshop, Bob Gates will be demonstrating various Photoshop editing techniques, using members' photos as examples. Please send him sample photos to use, and give some idea of the kinds of things you think would help the photo. You can email the files to him at bgates@syr.edu.

Bob Gates has an exhibit at the Liverpool Library in October, as well as continuing work at the Technology Garden in downtown Syracuse through November.

Thanks,

Bob

SYRCAM

If you have been interested in looking at and using Syrcam but have had trouble accessing it then Bob Schulz suggest emailing him and he will email you back a special link that will bring you directly into the SyrCam and allow you to complete the registration process. Bob's email address is syrcam@dreamscape.com or bschulz@dreamscape.com. Either address should work, sending to both is not necessary.

SCC Photo Exhibit

The Syracuse Camera Club will be having a photo exhibit at Liverpool Public Library during the month of November. For more information on this event please contact Tim Etter.

Your Help Is Needed

Hey - You can help fill this spot.

The Cable Release editor is currently looking for Syracuse Camera Club members who would like to help improve our Newsletter by contributing content. For example: If you like to work with Photoshop you could do a monthly review on PS Plug-ins or a segment on Tips-N-Tricks. If you still use an Enlarger to print your images then you might want to write something about that.

The subject matter can be pretty open as long as it relates to photography. If your interested in a particular aspect of photography then chances are someone else is as well. This is you opportunity to share with other what you enjoy doing.

If you are interested in contributing please contact Trey Hellwig. Operators are standing by now to take your call. . .
